

KLUNDERBIE

A floating exhibition

Commissioned by Brittany Ferries, KlunderBie created a floating modern Galician fairy-tale. Porthole shaped portraits combining ancient Gaelic Spanish traditions with modern culinary images. The meticulously detailed preparation and the emotional dedication of all contributors resulted in crisp, dreamy images with a dash of humour. words Kate Maat photo's Klunderbie

"We want our passengers to arrive in Galicia the moment they step onto our ship". After seeing the work of KlunderBie at Hotel Barceló Torre de Madrid, Catherine Querné (Interior Design & Strategy Director of Brittany Ferries) knew it had to be them.

"KlunderBie pushes the boundaries of Spanish heritage; they have an exceptional eye for detail and the ability to create a dream. There is a sensitive truth in everything they do. I'm thankful Amsterdam based art curator Kimberly Poppe introduced us'.

We connected by phone; Wiglius de Bie, calling in from San Sebastian, and Nienke Klunder from Valencia talking about their project for the ferry boat 'The Galicia' and their collaboration as a duo.
